

DEVELOPMENT SOCIOLOGY SOCI 4093

NEW COURSE - WINTER 2015

What happens to all the swag pre-made for the losing team after the Super Bowl each year? How does your mobile phone contribute to a civil war in the Democratic Republic of Congo? Are 'Voluntourists' really helping fight poverty one internship at a time? These and other contemporary development issues will be addressed in this new course offered by the Department of Sociology. If you are interested in learning more about international development, globalization, and your place in the world, consider registering for SOCI 4093 in Winter 2015.

POVERTY

CIVIL WAR

FAIR

TRADE

NGOs

FOREIGN

AID

WINTER 2015

Tuesdays & Thursdays
14:00-15:15

FOR MORE INFO:

Liam Swiss
lswiss@mun.ca